

Ralph DeLuca Knows Vintage Movie Posters

My name is Ralph DeLuca, and I have an addiction to old movies. As long as I can remember, I've needed a regular fix of movie memorabilia: vintage movie posters, old movie stills, lobby cards, vintage concert posters, boxing style concert posters, and more.

So, for the last ten years, to feed my movie memorabilia hunger, I've been a "leading man" - the leading man in buying vintage movie memorabilia.

Like everyone else who has bid, bought, sold, auctioned, shown, saved and exhibited, I've lost sleep over the great poster or photograph that got away...

I have bought posters from heirs, estates, other addicts like myself and dealers. And I want to buy your vintage movie posters as well.

Why Me and Not an Online Auction House?

People who use auction websites or auction houses to sell their movie related items must typically wait 6 months or more to get an item into the sale cycle.

Then, they pay anywhere from 25% to 50% of the value, plus photographic fees, plus listing fees and even fees if something doesn't sell!

I don't know about you, but it seems simpler to contact me for a free appraisal on your items. I offer quick cash for items. I spend over $1,000,000 annually to purchase vintage movie memorabilia. Some of that money could be going to you.

No Pressure, Lots of Experience

Want to know if your old movie posters and concert posters are authentic? Call me to find out.

I can be your movie memorabilia star and help you get you the most cash - quickly, confidentially and fairly.

So, call me first or call me last, but make sure you contact me for the best deal for your original movie memorabilia.
